• All over the world today—in Europe, in the Pacific, in Africa, in Alaska, in the United States—American nurses are serving their country and its people—responding to the call for nurses in the armed forces.

As they respond, other nurses—Student Nurses—are stepping in, getting ready to take their places—on the home front as an active reserve of nurse power. Thus, care for the Nation's sick and wounded is provided, the national health is assured.

More student nurses are needed to do all this—65,000 must enter accredited schools of nursing this year.

The United States Cadet Nurse Corps has been made possible by the Congress to give you professional nurse education—FREE! Acceptance for nurse preparation in the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps is a high privilege as well as an opportunity. You serve your country and secure your future by joining the proud profession of nursing.
